Mr. Campbell from Iowa bought up a bunch of good Jersey cows here this week to ship back home and sell. We understand Mr.
Campbell paid from $100 to $200 for these cows and they are good ones. If buyers can come in here and buy cows and sell them in another state at a good profit, the chances are we are selling our cows too cheap.

Your Account Due.
This is a new year. If you owe me an account for 1919, you must pay it. I have done my part, you do your duty. Don't wait for me to ask you for it.
Respectfully, J. D. Harbur.

George Seal, who is here from Southwest, this week, on the pettijury, is a son of one of Barton County's best known pioneers.
His father was Judge Thomas Seal.
Judge Seal was prominent in politics; he was a big stockman, and one of Barton County's most popular auctioneers. George is following in the footsteps of his father. He takes a good deal of interest in politics. He is a successful farmer, and he's been doing a good deal in the auctioneer line. He spent a couple of weeks at the Kansas City Auction School, recently, picking up some of the finer points of the game.—Lamar Democrat.

Frank King was displaying here Saturday a silver mounted shaving stand that was presented to him by the Jasper County Fair Association in recognition of his service as superintendent of the sheep department at the county fair last fall. Mr. King is justly proud of the gift, but no doubt he was entitled proper recognition because Mr. King is a hard worker and a hustler at that sort of work.

Inexpensive Fun.
Probably complaining about everything all the time does no real good, but it seems to be about the only way we can have any fun at all and still live within our means.—Ohio State Journal.
